- This internship helped me to understand the fundamentals of cybersecurity.

PROJECT

IoT Intrusion Detection

- This project aims to develop a system to monitor and detect intrusions in IoT environments, helping to prevent security breaches caused by cyber threats.
- The system uses real-time monitoring techniques to analyze network traffic and device behavior, providing timely alerts to mitigate potential attacks.

Real-Time Weather Notifier

- Developed a real-time weather notification application using Python libraries and API integration to fetch live weather data.
- Enabled location-based weather updates, allowing users to receive instant alerts on temperature, humidity, and weather conditions.
